Traveling Wilberly 4.0 out of 5 stars It took me some time to get accustomed to use it, as it does with any new appliance. I did some shredding, slicing, cake dough mixing, I used the juicer, the chopper and the whipping attachment. Here are my thoughts and notes on how the processor works. 1 Juicer works pretty decent, better than the low cost plastic ones, but not as nice as really expensive highspeed juicers. It takes me 30 to 40 seconds to get all juice out of a half of orange. 2 Slicer works great on hard vegetables, like carrots and beets. To slice apples for Apfelkuchen German Apple cake is a breeze. Does not work on onions, I have to continue using Borner for that. 3 Shredder works great for carrots and beets. My processor comes with two shredding attachments, used both, liked both for different dishes. Tip after shredding carrots and beets wipe the white plastic part with oil, it takes away the coloring. After you shred something there is this little piece that keeps getting stuck between the disk and the plastic cover, as some of the reviewers had noticed. However, it does not bother me, as with any shredding system you would have some little pieces of the vegetable left. 4 Whipper whips as expected. 5 Chopper I like it a lot. It does not mash things, you can still taste little pieces, which for some dishes, like tapenade or gaspasho is crucial. It does not blend and its not supposed to I wanted to make mango mousse, but I could still see little tiny pieces of mango, so I finished the work with the stick blender. However, mashed potatoes come out really mashed and perfect. You need to use the chopper for the cake dough and it works great. Tried it for pancake batter as well as for a couple of cakes and everything came out excellent. The processor very quiet.

I do not think its bulky, it is very compact and I like the design. Clean up is easy. Everything interlocks very securely. It might present a problem for storing, as the parts are of different shape and size. However, I found a good system of storing it, so it does not clutter the kitchen the processor with the bowl and cover goes into one big plastic container that slides on my shelf, and all the parts go into another smaller container that goes on the same shelf. I wish the instructions would be more specific, may be with some examples of recipes you can make, and what attachments you can use for it. I hope youll find my comments useful and it will help you to make your decision. I replaced a pretty old Kitchenaid that had some things I really hated. One, the cover was full of little grooves that were hard to clean Braun no grooves to catch food. Two, my kitchenaid was NOT leakproof so when I blended liquids it was all over! Braun completely leakproof because it is a solid bowl. Love this feature! Adjustable speeds are really helpful. Does everything from the toughest slicing and chopping to whipping cream. Love the many different options in this processor. Another is just the blades are removable so storage is much easier than having 5 separate blades with pads attached. Runs super quiet. This is a great product. I became frustrated trying to find replacement parts for mine and ordered the Braun. Like my other processors, it has a continuous and intermittent on function but the Braun lets you control the blade speed. I love this feature. You can also remove the blade from the Braun and not worry about a leak thru the center hole. The Braun has a different blade mechanism. It is easier to clean and so much quieter than my other processors. But this kitchen gadget never ceases to amaze me. It is incredibly versatile and an absolute workhorse. Doesnt take much space and seems as close to actually possessing a magic wand as I have ever gotten.

I really wanted something strong enough to make nut butter. With the small bowl insert I can even make small amounts. The machine does a fantastic job and has intrigued me into other experiments cuts cabbage into slaw superbly. Grapefruit juice anyone. How about the fluffiest eggs ever. There seems to be no limit to this small but mighty machine. Definitely a keeper! It works well, but it is obnoxiously loud. My Honda gas lawnmower and chainsaw are quieter. Well be pureeing for the indefinite future, so in the hopes of saving our hearing, we started browsing for a new brand. We settled for this one purely because it was advertised as quiet. When we got it, the first thing I did was plug it in and compared the noise. It was amazing. It was easily only a third as loud, possibly less. Functionally, it was comparable. While the Cuisinart did better pureeing, and did it faster, the Braun was so much quieter that we were okay taking 3040 seconds to puree rather than 1520 seconds. It also has a small portion accessory that's convenient. The Cuisinart has been packed up and will go on Craigslist at a discount. I made all the baby food for my 4 children with this with ease and it continued to serve our family well with its versatility. My original 20yr old one's motor is still going strong and I use that one for soap making. My other Hamilton beach food processor was so loud that I kept it in the attached garage. But this unit has been worth every penny. It sits on my counter and quietly makes my butter even faster. The adjustable speed is a luxury worth having. I also make my butter crust and homemade crackers with this. Of course, now that it comes with so many blades for chopping and a juicer, I might have to try some of them, but for now, I'm just happy to have such a quiet, powerful well made machine. I like everything about it, the way it looks, the low profile to set under the cabinets, the sound, speeds and quality. Can't say enough good about it.

It's a bit large but very nice. It will probably outlive me. I was so sad when it finally expired recently. I looked at many, many other and MUCH cheaper brands and was tempted to spend less. But in the end, I was only happy buying another Braun since clearly this is a brand I can trust. It is quiet and works beautifully and has many helpful attachments. Everything is easy to use and very important easy to clean. I am very satisfied that I made the right decision! If it lasts another 31 years I'll be thrilled! Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again Braun motors outlast the others hands down. I tried other brands but they died within the year. Braun food processors last forever. I use mine frequently. My very first one was already 6 years old when I accidentally dropped bone in with the meat I was grinding. This broke the plastic gear at the base of the bowl. I tried another brand of food processor; it died within a couple months. The store I bought it from told me to contact the company. They wanted me to ship it back. I needed a food processor not a shipping and waiting problem. The shredder plates were worn but still useable you just had to feed in the vegetables at a slower rate and I thought that I deserved a new one. It took 34 years to find a place that sold them. No store in Saskatchewan had this brand. Finally one day on a whim I checked Amazon and was surprised to see this good product at a respectable price. And it's performed as expected. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again First lasted 25 years, second one's base is still working but attachments gave up after 10 years. Once I had American brand, very nice looking but loud and lasted only 2 years. This new Braun model is much better than old one, it's very easy to use, easy to clean, the base is light but powerful, VERY QUIET. This is the only one I could find on the market with grating attachment. I've just used it to make fresh horseradish, fantastic.

Only negative it's very difficult to remove the lid from the small bowl that have anti splash rubber seal on the top. but I always need help opening the jars as well. I hope this processor will last as long as the old models. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again On my one slicer attachment the blade got loose but everything is still working and all my other attachments are still like new even so they were used a lot. I totally panicked when I looked for a new food processor in stores to replace my old food processor. I even bought a new food processor, different name brand but returned it. I panicked with what I did see on the market, I went to all different stores no matter what price and was very disappointed none of them can compare with the Braun model so I went to Amazon and searched for the company Braun. I am very happy I found it and I still have my Old Braun that I have now in my Summer Kitchen. Thank you Amazon for selling it. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again The motor is powerful, everything is dishwasher safe and easy to clean, and the unit itself is stylish and stores easily. The components store easily without a specially designed box and the discoloration of an internal piece doesn't bother me. I would absolutely recommend this. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again The plastic pusher sometimes gets food trapped between it and the wall of the funnel, and this type of plastic has a coating that does not slip as easily as it might. The whole assembly takes up a lot of space on the counter. My previous Braun processor had the motor underneath the bowl, and took up less space. I am concerned that since the blade sits on so many plastic parts, as opposed to metal, that this machine will not last as long as my previous one. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again My family enjoys making hummus, but theres SO many more things to make with it.

Dont cheap out, and you wont have to buy another food processor for years. Decades, even. Thanks Braun. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again I had one in the past it was for Europe standard 220 W, so when we moved to Canada we couldnt take it, but I hope that this model will work for a long time same as my previous one. It is easy to use and clean and very functional. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again So far I used it for slicing carrots and dough hook for making pie crust. I was happy with the results. The machine is compact and not too heavy. It has a lot of attachments which have to be stored separately. It is fairly simple to use. Occasionally I have difficulty with locking the bowl. However the mechanism and ease of use is far superior to another brand I tried in similar price range. I would recommend this product. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again J'ai utilise pour 30 ans le model 3210. Le bol etait plus gros et le plastique de finition de la base etait plus resistant. Un peu cher pour un model plus petit, mais somme toute tres bien. J'espere l'avoir pour 30 ans. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again Love this food processor. The cup was cracked when I received it, but the seller shipped me the replacement, with no problem. I am very happy with service and the product! Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again Main bowl no longer able to spin blades. Quality problem with spindle that connects from main unit motor to cutting blades in main mixing bowl. Have tried contacting Braun support, both phone numbers provided do not work. Have used Braun for years, but the quality has gone down. Do not recommend Braun support. MIA. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again The only complaint I have is the mouth where you put your food into to be chopped up or shredded is small. Wished it was as large as the old one I owned. Other than that I still haven't used all blades.

Going to order french fry blade. Rather cook fresh than frozen product. Happy with the product. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again I'm thrilled with this version. Hope to get 25 years from this one too! Sorry, we failed to record your vote. Please try again When I finally decided to get a new one, after shopping around I realised that a new version of it was my best bet. The compact design allows me to store it under the cabinets and also the variable speed is a huge plus. Sorry, we failed to record your vote. If a Member has multiple Program Credit Cards they cannot be linked to the same Triangle Rewards Account. A Member can request the issuance of additional Triangle Rewards Cards that have the same account number as that Member's Triangle Rewards Account. Collecting electronic Canadian Tire Money eCTM can be collected when you purchase Eligible Merchandise see below at participating Canadian Tire stores or online at canadiantire.ca or such other web site as may be designated by Canadian Tire from time to time. To collect eCTM you must present a Triangle Rewards Card or use a Cardless Method described below. You can also collect eCTM on that portion of a purchase charged to a Program Credit Card. The Program Credit Card must be linked to a Triangle Rewards Account at the time the purchase is made in order to collect eCTM. The amount of eCTM collected on fuel purchases depends on the number of litres purchased. A minimum fuel purchase may be required before eCTM can be collected. The rate of collection may vary from time to time and by location and by type of tender used for payment so check at your local Canadian Tire gas bar. You can also collect eCTM on purchases that you make at other merchants that are charged to a Program Credit Card.

The rate at which eCTM can be collected may vary from time to time and by location and is subject to change by Canadian Tire without notice. In addition, you may collect eCTM at a different rate if you pay with a Program Credit Card than you would if you use a Triangle Rewards Card or Cardless Method. Purchases made in a foreign currency with a Program Credit Card are first converted into Canadian currency as set out in the cardmember agreement prior to calculating the amount of eCTM that you have collected. If you use a Triangle Rewards Card or Cardless Method, it must be swiped or scanned or your phone number provided, as the case may be, before you make your purchase. When shopping online at canadiantire.ca or other website as designated by Canadian Tire, you must enter your Triangle Rewards Account number at check out to collect eCTM. Members are also eligible to collect bonus eCTM, or to collect eCTM at a promotional rate offered from time to time on the purchase of select items, upon the occurrence of certain events or as part of a promotion or offer, but unless otherwise indicated, bonus eCTM or eCTM awarded at a promotional rate is awarded only once for a transaction. You cannot use a Triangle Rewards Card or Cardless Method together with a Program Credit Card. If you charge a purchase to a Program Credit Card, you will only earn eCTM at the applicable Program Credit Card rate then in effect, even if you also present your Triangle Rewards Card or Cardless Method. However, if you redeem eCTM to pay for part of a transaction and pay for the balance of the transaction with a Program Credit Card that is linked to a different Triangle Rewards Account than the account from which the redemption is occurring, all eCTM collected in respect of that transaction will be credited to the Triangle Rewards Account from which redemption is occurring. You will not be able to collect eCTM on that portion of a transaction in respect of which you redeemed eCTM.

However, we may, from time to time and at our discretion, have special offers or promotions that would allow you to collect eCTM on that portion of a transaction in respect of which you redeemed eCTM. If you use more than one Program Credit Card to make a purchase e.g. split the cost between two or more cards, all eCTM collected on that purchase will be credited only to the Triangle Rewards Account linked to the first Program Credit Card that is presented. If you make payment using a Program Credit Card in combination with some other form of tender, only that portion of the purchase charged to the Program Credit Card will earn eCTM at the then applicable Program Credit Card rate. That portion of the purchases made with the other form of tender may be eligible to earn eCTM at a different rate. Delays may occur in recording eCTM to a Triangle Rewards Account. Redeeming electronic Canadian Tire Money eCTM can only be redeemed for merchandise including applicable taxes at participating Canadian Tire stores or at other locations designated by Canadian Tire. To redeem your eCTM you must present your Triangle Rewards Card or Cardless Method or Program Credit Card to the cashier with your purchase. Please note that in some Canadian Tire stores it may not be possible to simply provide your phone number when redeeming eCTM; presentation of your Triangle Rewards Card or Program Credit Card or scanning of the Program App may be required instead. You may not redeem eCTM from more than one Triangle Rewards Account for the same transaction. You must have enrolled in the Program, or have activated your Program Credit Card, in order to redeem eCTM. What Happens When an Item is Returned. If you return an item for a refund and had received eCTM when you purchased such item, such amount of eCTM will be deducted from your Triangle Rewards Account.

Merchandise that was purchased either in whole or in part by redeeming eCTM may not be returned for cash, rather, the connected Triangle Rewards Account will be credited with the same amount of eCTM used to make the original purchase. Expiration of Electronic Canadian Tire Money We may expire the eCTM in your Triangle Rewards Account in the event that there has been a period of inactivity of 18 months or more. For the purposes of this section, "inactivity" means that there has been neither a transaction in which you have collected eCTM, nor a transaction in which you have redeemed eCTM during the period in question. Termination of Membership and Cancellation of the Program Membership may be terminated by Canadian Tire if any of the following events occur A the Member has failed to comply with any of these terms and conditions, or Canadian Tire determines that the Member has abused the Program or has made any misrepresentation or false statement to Canadian Tire; B the Member dies; C the Member becomes bankrupt or insolvent or any bankruptcy or insolvency proceedings are commenced by or against the Member, D the Member is charged with a “designated offence” as defined in the Criminal Code Canada, E the Member’s Program Payment Card is terminated by Canadian Tire Bank, or F Canadian Tire suspects the Member of any fraudulent activity in connection with the Program or the use of a Program Payment Card. A Member may choose to cancel his or her membership by written notice sent to the address below or by calling Program customer service. Termination or cancellation of membership in the Program will result in the immediate closing of the Member’s Triangle Rewards Account and the cancellation of all eCTM in such Triangle Rewards Account without any compensation or other liability to the Member. Termination of a Member’s Triangle Rewards Account will also result in the Member no longer being able to use a Program Payment Card linked to the Program.

Canadian Tire may, in its sole discretion and at any time without prior notice either i cancel the Program or ii except if you are a Member residing in Quebec, Ontario or such other province where prohibited by law, establish a date upon which eCTM will expire and may no longer be used.

Merging Triangle Rewards Accounts At Canadian Tire’s discretion, Members may be able to merge their Triangle Rewards Accounts into a single account. That merged account will bear the Triangle Rewards Account number of one of the accounts being merged and one Member will be designated as the holder of that account with full power and authority to deal with the account, including closing it, and will become the “Member” hereunder. All Members wishing to merge their Triangle Rewards Accounts will need to consent to the merger and agree on which account number will be designated as the number for the newly merged Triangle Rewards Account and who the accountholder will be. All remaining Triangle Rewards Account numbers will be cancelled and the persons who are not designated as the accountholder will no longer be Members in the Program.

Donating electronic Canadian Tire Money Members may be able to donate their eCTM to select charities or community groups. Please visit the Program Website for details about donating eCTM.

Lost or Stolen Triangle Rewards Cards If a Triangle Rewards Card is lost, stolen or destroyed, Canadian Tire will issue a new card on presentation of proper identification, and the balance in the Member’s Triangle Rewards Account will be transferred to a new Triangle Rewards Account.

Canadian Tire assumes no responsibility if eCTM has been used by anyone who presents a lost or stolen Triangle Rewards Card, Cardless Method or Program Payment Card before Canadian Tire is notified of such loss or theft.
